

Pearl S. Buck

Did You Know?...

- Pearl S. Buck was a Nobel and Pulitzer Prize-winning writer, activist, and humanitarian. She used the spotlight on her to shine a light on the plight of marginalized people at home and abroad. She also founded Welcome House (the world's first international biracial adoption agency) and established The Pearl S. Buck Foundation (now Pearl S. Buck International) to provide international humanitarian aid.
- Ms. Buck's groundbreaking words and work paved the way for greater international and intercultural understanding. They also provided life-changing aid for countless impoverished children.
- In a typical year, Pearl S. Buck International provides over 85,000 children, family and community members in need with access to basic education, life-saving nutrition and other health programs and through humanitarian projects. Over 2 million children and family members have been served since 1964.
- The Child Sponsorship program matches children in need with child sponsors who donate a dollar a day to support their sponsored child's health and education until they become self-sufficient.
- Pearl S. Buck International serves children, families, and communities in 8 countries: Cambodia, China, Kenya, Philippines, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam.
